

Note from the Community Service Committee:

Camelot Education is deeply committed to the academic and social successes of its students. They partner with schools to provide targeted and effective programs for at-risk students. Donations will be collected at Education Day for the Excel South School, which is supported by Camelot Education. Excel South is an accelerated school for students that are 16-21 years old and are behind in their studies. The program offers an extended day where students can earn enough credits to graduate in 2.5 years or less. Please help the students and teachers at Excel South by bringing some of these donations to Education Day:

- Expo markers (thick ones, not thin)
- Sharpies
- Markers
- Colored pencils
- Pencils
- Chart paper
- Poster board
- Pens (blue, black, colored)
- Paper (construction, loose-leaf)
- Pencil sharpeners
- Glue sticks
- Tape (masking, scotch)
- Tissues
- Clorox wipes
- Paper towels
- File folders (the ones that are often yellow and simply open up with no pockets)
- Two pocket folders
- Notebooks (spiral/composition)
- Inexpensive calculators
- Any high-interest, relevant literature for high schoolers

Excel South is severely technologically deficient. They are in need of projectors. Currently, teachers are still administering notetaking via handwriting on a white board. If you have a working projector that you are not using, or want to donate a new one, the school would greatly appreciate it.
