

Meredith Kaganovskiy is a certified meeting professional and the Associate Director of the DIA Global Annual Meeting. With 16 years of meeting planning experience, Meredith is passionate about creating experiences and environments that give individuals opportunities to learn and connect with each other and has designed conferences for domestic and international nonprofit associations since 2004. Meredith takes great pride in how she works with her volunteer program committee and stakeholders at large, the custom resources she creates and provides to help her session chairs and speakers prepare for delivering meaningful sessions, and the bridge she has helped to build between the Marketing Team and Program Design Team that has resulted in more impactful communication for prospective attendees. Along with bringing people together, Meredith cherishes her family time and being a mother, wife, and artist.
